

GO
ALL IN.

Libby.

The library reading app.

Libby READS UK

29 October - 12 November

Dear reader,

Hari Kumar: The Race Day Disaster is pure chaotic comedy. Illustrated by Mamta Singh, it's a funny doodle diary about a smart and cheeky kid with big feelings and super big dreams. Hari wants to be a star. He sees his whole life as a movie. And the big dream he's chasing in this book is to beat his nemesis at school and win the shiny new house cup.

Hari's house has NEVER won Sports Day. But this year, everything changes. There's just one teensy problem. Hari is a walking DISASTER when it comes to sport. So he's going to need some epic movie-style against-all-the-odds training to reach his goals. And there will be plenty of accidental chaos on the side.

Whether you read the ebook and laugh along with Mamta's doodles or listen to Jassa Ahluwalia's superbly funny narration of the audiobook (or BOTH!), we hope you LOVE this story as much as we do.

Rashmi Sirdeshpande