The Power of $1:
The RESA District Roadmap
to reading success

Overdrive Shared

Collection

Joining a Shared Collection: Expanding
Access to Digital Resources

Concept

Our RESA District would join together into a collective with Overdrive to share our buying power and purchase digital book resources.

Systems would join with a cost reflective of their student enrollment numbers and all systems in the collective would share their digital books with all others, allowing for greater access and numbers of copies available to all.

Advantages of Joining a Consortium

*Price Efficient!

*In our case, we join for as little as $1/per student, with all funds going towards content purchases (no extra fees).

If a school were to initiate a digital collection of their own, they may only be able to afford 50 titles. By joining a consortium of 20 schools, that same school would then have access to a collection of 1,000 titles OverDrive licensed librarians will be the facilitators of the collection. OverDrive staff school librarians take advantage of publisher sales and promotions; fill holds, and buy student recommendations. Members have minimal work!

Shared collection grows as consortium membership grows. *Access to more titles than you could purchase alone.

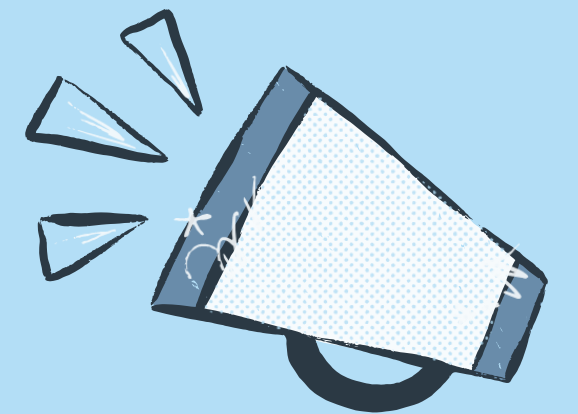

In addition, districts/schools could add titles solely for use by your school (separate from the shared collection)

Collection Development

An OverDrive Content specialist for the RESA District will be your consortium's personal librarian and curator, available anytime for collaboration and consultation.

- Purchases will be made by a development team that makes recommendations for titles and content.
